Temperament	Yards	Crush	Paddock
	Quiet: 20 head Slightly Stirry: 6 head	Quiet: 23 head Slightly Stirry: 3 head	Temperament not assessed in Paddock
	Steers worked well throughout yards. Occasionally when one moves several others rush off in same direction, only typical of age. The occasional steer became slightly upset on scales or in force, quickly calming once back in the mob.
Handled With	Bikes

Assessor Comments	26 Angus Angus steers really going ahead and will not disappoint if given the opportunity. These steers have gone ahead last 4 weeks or so since some warm weather and their older brothers has been sold off the paddock. Steers are out of vendor bred medium framed cows, vendor has been using Angus sires since 1993, there are some of these steers showing signs of generational crosses. Please note, at least 2 steers observed with small scur horn, at least 5 have varying degree of white on cod to navel area, 5 steers I observed were being "proud" they are steers, just may of been marked late. 2 steers seen with wart and ringworm. Some steers do have clover seed in dead hair on bellies or on their polls. Nothing considered detrimental . Vendor also offering 40 heifers in todays sale, sisters to these.
