	Ok to handle through the race and crush. The three steers noted as slightly stirry just would not settle fully while in the crush and exited quickly. Two steers did not like the pressure while photos and videos were being taken in the yards and would move away quickly. Noting aggressive - they just need some space.

Assessor Comments	A line of fair through to very good quality vendor bred Angus and Angus x steers. They are medium to large frame steers which are sired by bulls from Texas, Eastern Plains and Bald Balir selected on structural soundness, growth and carcase traits. One steer with slightly floppy outer near ear - see photo - not considered detrimental to future markets. They were yard weaned in March and have been educated to hay racks and feedlot troughs. They have had their first shot of Bovilus MH + IBR in June and suit to take to take directly onto feed for the domestic market or to grow out to heavy export feeder weights.
