These steers are well handled and on the whole worked well through the yards, however one steer panicked in the race and was assessed as stirry. He did settle down back in the mob.

Handled With	Bikes , On foot
Assessor Comments	A good to very good quality run of British cross steers that are by either quality Red Angus or Angus bulls, They have been well educated and handled. These steers have not had a setback and on good quality feed should continue to power ahead. Because of their breed and softness these steers are probably best suited to do a trade feeder job, however have enough quality and frame of take through to heavy feeders or fatten as a bullock. Please note two steers have what appears to be ring worm markings on their head and necks.
