	Cattle were only just mustered before assessment, so had not settled 100%. There was no problem during assessment all walked through race to crush for weighing and walked away soon after, a couple of steers got a little upset while being in crush, Overall, no problems

Assessor Comments	A nice draft of quality Angus Steers, these steers have been running on tail end of Oats crop and have cleaned up well. They are of good frame and bone and believe on the right feed these steers will continue to perform. There are 2 steers with a little white on their underbelly around/behind the pizzle, also there is a steer with little scurs. Overall a good line of steers with good breeding behind them. Take on for a feeder job or grow out for the Heavy Steer market.These steers are on the move and cleaning up well in their coats
