Temperament

Yards	Crush	Paddock
Quiet: 10 head Slightly Stirry: 2 head	Quiet: 9 head Slightly Stirry: 3 head	Temperament not assessed in Paddock

Most cows handled quietly, while some did became slightly agitated when separated from their calves, which is to be expected. After being processed and reunited, the herd settled and stood quietly for photos.

Assessor Comments	This line of mixed-age Angus cows presents an excellent opportunity for any producer seeking to run a well-bred mob of quality Angus cows. Currently in their working clothes with a sappy 6-10 week old calf at foot. Given the right management and feed, these girls will not disappoint. Whether you're planning a split job early next year or looking to invest in a reliable herd of proven breeders for future production, this line offers solid potential.
