| Assessor Comments  | A nice line of Murray Grey X heifer calves ready to take the spring on and stack the weight on. An absolute credit to the calf rearing operation in this facility as they are fit healthy small cattle. Note some calves are getting over ring worm as per photos                                                                                                                            |
