	Steers were very good to handle in all areas of the yards. Only the very odd steer did resent being in the crush. Very quiet to move around out in the bigger yards.

Assessor Comments	Buyers, here are a large line of Poll Hereford, Angus and F1 steers that present in store to forward store condition. These steers had had the luxury of being grazed on oats for the last few months but prior to that the seasonal conditions were very tight and still are. The oats has now come to an end and these need to go. There is an opportunity for restockers to purchase these to grow out further for entry into feedlots next year. There are a few with some eye issues that range from a small blue dot to blue eye scaring (sample attached in photos). There are also a few with some warts on them (head and neck), photos also attached. They might lack a little bit of weight for age however they are on “the do” and should continue to gain weight on improved pastures or crop. Buyers need to be aware these did have some access to grain at weaning so as a result a grassfed declaration will not be available.
