Steers are generally very good to handle, there is a couple of steers which rushed the gate when drafting but settled very quickly once pressure was taken off. Most stood quite well for weighing with only a few not wanting to stand still on the scales.

2 Head	white on belly

Assessor Comments A great line of Angus steers which have been weaned 6 weeks. They are vendor bred and very even. Bred out of medium frame Angus cows originally Hazeldean bloodlines. Would make excellent steers to take on to feeder weights in the spring.
