Assessor Comments	A quality line of 500 Glenwood blood July/August drop Merino sucker wethers offered in 2 lots of 250 run out the gate, presenting in fresh condition and averaging 31kg liveweight at assessment. These wethers display an attractive, well-presented skin with good freshness and plenty of potential to grow out and develop. Bred from Glenwood blood Merino genetics, they offer buyers an excellent opportunity to secure a sizeable line of young sheep with plenty of weight gain ahead of them. The lambs have been introduced to grain through trail feeding alongside their mothers, giving them a valuable head start in transitioning onto a grain-based ration. Showing plenty of potential, these wethers represent an ideal opportunity for both lamb feeders and producers looking to add value through a backgrounding and finishing program. With their fresh condition, attractive skins and early grain exposure, they are well positioned to respond with the right conditions in front of them. they provide an excellent starting point for anyone looking to grow out a line of young Merino wethers and finish them into a robust lamb market. A portion of lambs showing some weepy eye that looks to have dried up. A very even and attractive opportunity to secure 500 young Merino sucker wethers, offering plenty of upside for the next operator with all husbandry up to date. A line well worth considering.
