Assessor Comments	A reasonably unique opportunity to purchase a complete drop of young, fully shedding future breeders. These ewes would be a great start into the world of shedding sheep, or a great add on to an exiting one to speed up the shedding process. They are very healthy and show an improvement in temperament from original shedding enterprises. The Eyre White commenced it's development in 1998, with not too many flocks appearing this far north. They were developed as a low maintenance, hardy, highly fertile, medium framed animal that put less pressure on fences than their parents! A great opportunity to source a genetic package that might improve most shedding operations.
