|                    | Heifers were fine to handle through out yards, but leading up to crush had a bit of 'run' in them. Once back out into yards were settled and easy to maneuver.                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                             |                                        |
