	Heifers were mustered from paddock and yarded with no time to settle or cool down prior to assessment. A % of heifers became unsettled when confined in crush but were mostly quick to resettle once released back into mob. A small % of heifers became unsettle when pressure was applied in backyards and in force. 1 heifer was very unsettled. In big yards heifers tended to trot as mob and through gateways but could be blocked easily. During photos and videos heifers were settled.
