| Assessor Comments  | Four young cows and calves that have been running back with the Angus bull, these cows sure will produce very good vealers with the extra milk. They would be ideal for a smaller acreage as they are so quiet to handle.                                                                                                                                                                    |  |  |
