	Quiet: 19 head		Quiet: 19 head		Temperament not assessed in Paddock
	Experienced matrons that know the drill around the yards. Very easy to handle in the yards & force. A bit of stubborn behaviour in the crush - Not wanting to walk forward being the most common, only from years of preg testing and crush work.

Notable Traits	Traits
	2 Head Little bit of length in one back toe
	1 Head White belly to the brisket
	5 Head White flank
Assessor Comments	Very good line of mature aged cows. Cast for age and being offered for sale due to bringing the median age of the herd down, and having an excellent result in the heifers preg testing, making these older females the surplus. These females have remained in the system by always proving good fertility & producing a calf every year, remaining sound in the feet & udder and always holding condition, making them the ideal breeder to retain a heifer calf out of if you wanted to go that way. Big, long bodied, deep matrons that fill out the entire crush & will produce a standout calf with excellent growth for age, as they've done so for years. Cows that have been consistent, honest income producers, and are thus realistically priced at their kill value to give them the best chance at heading back to the paddock.
