Slightly Stirry: 2 head

When pressured in yards there was only a couple that moved a bit quick otherwise proper quiet. Only a few turned in race but typical of small weaners. In paddock they jogged briefly after going through a gate but walked soon after and dogs weren't required to put them in yards, they moved in without stress or pressure. When let out they may have jogged for 20-

	30m but slowed to a walk and wondered off feeding quite relaxed. Would suit someone not overly confident being around cattle.
