	Heifers are a bit sticky and like to do things as a group, in a good set of modern yards with experience operators these heifers would handle the process ok

Handled With	Bikes , Vehicles
Assessor Comments	A good line of Angus heifers that are principally Hazeldean blood with a slight influence of Connamara blood running through them, the vendors have done a wonderful job of growing out these young matrons and setting them up for a spring calf operation. PTIC to proven Glendaloch LBW bulls that the vendors have used and calved down on their own property without any trouble. These heifers are well grown, structurally sound and will grow out into nice sound fertile females for the future. Please note 4 heifers have a splash of white on udder and 3 carry an old pink eye scar not deemed detrimental.
