Heifers handled quite well in the yards with only a few ring leaders that tend to trot about a bit. In the crush the heifers were reasonably well behaved but a few did resent being under pressure. Generally a well handled line of heifers that are best handled in a quiet manner. Odd heifer has the ability to fizz a bit if isolated.

Handled With	Aerial (Helicopters, gyro's and planes) , Bikes , Horses
Assessor Comments	A line of Charbray/Brahman heifers that have been pregnancy tested non-detectable by a vet back in April. These will suit restockers looking to rebuild breeder numbers. These would be ideal to mate to the bulls of choice however a British bred bull should land you a calf that would suit all domestic feeder specs. Buyers note there are also an additional lot Brahman heifers being offered in the sale if a buyer is looking to put a decent sized line together. Fort Constantine is now a tick free area so consequently free to move to all areas.
