|                    | The Tawandi Farm stock have been regularly purchased by repeat buyers locally due to their natural docility. The steers themselves handled quite well through the assessment for young unweaned stock being easy to draft and respected both minor pressure to work and being easy to block if desired. |                         |                                     |
