Steers were a bit fizzy in the yard, mainly just a select few that would stir the others up. Cattle that haven't had a great deal of handling, on top of the hot feed going through them at the moment. Non showed any signs of aggression, and all flowed up through the race easily, and were mostly quite good in the crush, just a bit fast around the yards.

	3 Head	White forward of the navel (Mostly just a white spot on the navel)
	2 Head	White Splash on flank

Assessor Comments	Pure Te Mania Angus blood young steers, bred for positive carcass traits & high growth. Have been grazing fresh improve pastures (with excellent Fert history) that has begun running to head & really upping the protein, and is really getting the cattle going, as well as good native pastures along some creek country. Steers are fresh & clean coated in forward condition, many looking ready for the knife, or continue on pastures/feed and take out to heavy feedlot bodies. Steers that historically always yield very well and will suit any job.
