Slightly Stirry: 10 head

Temperament not assessed in Paddock

Stirry: 1 head

Quiet young steers to handle. All leading up the race well, handling pressure and standing sensibly on the scales, just a few that were a bit anxious, doing some rocking & weaving, listed above as slightly stirry. Quiet to walk amongst in the paddock for photos/videos, and will only get better with age & handling.

Assessor Comments

Nice even line of young Steers. Pure Rennylea Angus Blood, bred from Large framed, Clear Springs Pastoral Cows. Steers are long bodied, with a good, round backend, and plenty of depth. Steers that were given time to grow out and mature on improved pastures before starting on a light feed ration. This makes all of these steers bunker trained and ready to continue on the feeders, or background on some Spring pastures.
