Vendor Comments

They are in regular people contact and are moved on foot as part of their grazing pattern. They are given pasture hay through winter and early spring and this also makes them very quiet. Complete drop of steers

Assessor Comments	A wonderful draft of steers from a quality herd.The Pember cattle are an exceptionally quiet herd and this draft is no exception. They are fed pasture hay through winter while they are on their moms and the herd is regularly moved on foot. They have been yard weaned from assessment and then onto irrigated lucerne with heaps of regular human contact.
