	Quite hard to give an accurate assessment on their behavior. They were okay to draft/separate from their calves, perhaps could've been slightly agitated in the crush, but also have been AI'd multiple times over the years & as we all know it can wear thin on females after a while. I definitely don't think there's any aggression, just hard to settle if you're within a 5m flight zone. Unsure of paddock temperament.

Assessor Comments	Jackstar Pastoral of Molesworth are offering a consistent line of Angus Cows & Calves that are in their prime of their life with an extremely fresh Aug/Sep calf at foot. Purchased as NSM Heifers & Calves many years ago, these females have proven to be a tremendous mother and have consistently turned off exceptional offspring. Boasting a large frame with even fat cover, comprising of true to type Angus features & providing an exceptional amount of milk for their calves, these females would be a welcomed addition to any current Angus breeding program or a fantastic beginning for a new venture. As we all know, joining time is just around the corner & this is a fantastic opportunity to purchase a small line of NSM Cows & Calves and join them to the sire of your desire. Vendor is only selling these outfits as they now currently have adequate Vendor Bred commercial females on their property.
