Vendor Comments	Wethers would usually be kept as woolgrowers through to 2 year old. However, due to the extremely tough season we are forced to sell them early.
Assessor Comments	669 Merino wether lambs based on Coddington Poll & Connewarran genetics. The 'Tiverton' Merino flock averages 17.5 micron & a strong emphasis is placed on ram selection where sires carrying soft handling, free growing wool are used. These wethers would usually be grown out to 2 year old however due to the extremely tough season, they have been forced to sell. They were shorn on Thursday 17th October & have recently been drenched with Q Drench. This represents a wonderful opportunity for a short term trade or they can be kept on as wool growers.  Please note: 46 wethers were mouthed & 2 were found to have ruptured
