Heifers were respectful at all times but are reactive when pressure is applied. Odd heifer was unsettled and pushy when confined but settled immediately upon release. Heifers are content when handled in a mob and were observed to be compliant when mustered in to the yards. Heifers display handling traits typical of the breed.

Handled With	Aerial (Helicopters, gyro's and planes) , Bikes , Dogs , Horses , On foot , Vehicles
Assessor Comments	A tidy line of station bred heifers from the Fucheng crossbred program, which have an established reputation for performance in several leading Wagyu feedlots. These heifers are to be offered for sale as a three way "run out the gate" and are considered ideal to grow out to suitable joining weights, or alternatively background to feedlot entry specifications. Heifers are tidy headed and are sound in the feet and legs, one heifer was observed to have ringworm scarring on the neck and one heifer has slight horn growth. An opportunity to purchase a line of well bred F1 heifers at a weight specification that is seldom, if ever, offered by this vendor.
