	Nice quiet cows that were a pleasure to handle. One cow in them just wanted to be off on her own compared to the rest but didn't misbehave in any way.

Assessor Comments	Presented is a nice little lot of PTIC Black Baldy cows that are in calf to high indexing Bongongo Angus bulls. These cows are 6-8 years old and are to commence calving in early February. Cows have recently had there booster shots at preg testing and have been proven breeders; rearing a calf each year since being bought onto the property. These cattle show good temperament and would suit any elderly or small operators looking for some low maintenance breeders. Only reason for sale is due to reducing numbers with the season and retaining the straight angus cows. For any further information please call.
