| Cattle preferred to run as a mob in the yards but were well educated cattle. Flowed well through the weighing in process with two head becoming slightly disgruntle but quickly calmed down when returning to mob. |                |      |                                           |      |
