| Assessor Comments      | 24 Good quality young Angus cows. These young females present a good opportunity to purchase some young females to go on with. 1 cow was preg tested to be approximately 6 months in calf the others are 2-4 months in calf. These females are only being sold due to the failing season on the western side.                                                                                |  |
