|                                       | These steers worked through the yards with no fuss. They are well educated and easy to handle. A couple of steers left the scales quick but settled quickly in their mates.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                           |                                     |

| Assessor Comments                     | A very even line of 28 weaned Angus steers. They are in fresh condition, with clean and healthy coats. These young steers display plenty of bone, length, shape and muscle - testament to their breeding. Sired by Naracoorte Stud Angus bulls and out of big framed home bred cows. A hand full of steers (5) are showing some navel - throwing back 3 generations to a touch of Santa. Likewise 2 steers have "brownish" polls. These steers show all the signs of being perfect to put on crop - with plenty of scope and growth ahead of them. They should suit a variety of markets - local trade through to heavy export steers, grass or grain. They are antibiotic free and suitable for grass fed markets. 28 Weaned Angus steers with plenty of upside. |                                           |                                     |
