	Heifers were good to work with , under pressure every now and again could stir up a little and they will run when they have space as most station cattle will, but certainly not aggressive. They have settled down well with handling with dogs in the last few weeks.
Handled With	Bikes , Dogs , On foot , Vehicles

Notable Traits	Traits 4 Head Very slight blue eye
Assessor Comments	Great opportunity to put together a smart line of 294 heifers to be sold as 3 mobs of 98 out the gate. These heifers have maturity and growth on their side which should mean very good compensatory weight gain for the prospective purchaser. The Yammatee blood cattle have a great reputation with many feedlots throughout the eastern states and I have had good feedback regularly about their performance in feedlots.
