	Cows were very well behaved throughout assessment. Especially having been through the yards on a few occasions recently - the most recent being for preg testing. Despite this invasive experience, they were easy to handle and very amicable going back up the race and onto the scales. Very quiet to share the

Assessor Comments	Nice line of vendor bred, pure Rennylea Angus Blood Cows. Young Cows that have done it tough over the trying seasonal conditions of 2024, with 4 of them rearing their first calf, and having not long had those calves weaned off them and still in the process of bouncing back. Despite this, they all did a super job and produced a good healthy 2024 drop calf. Only offered for sale now, due a management decision to cut back the breeding stock by only retaining the first 2 cycles in the herd. This small lot of proven 'prime of their life' breeders would be ideal to top up numbers of another pure Rennylea based herd or use as the foundations breeders of a new herd.
