The McRae cattle hold a very strong reputation for performance and structural Quality. Every breeding female in their herds is independantly stucturally assessed for the first three years of their lives. They McRae cow herd is a moderate frame herd that packs plenty of growth in 400, 600 day traits without a big mature cow weight. The herd is focused on keeping carcase figureds above breed average but also keeping above average for the fertility traits of gestation, milk & scrotal figures. They have a strong perfomace history in a feedlot enviroment. Odd heifer with slight blue eye scar. These heifers come highly reccomended.
