The steers are very good to muster and handle well in the paddock, mustered by one person on a motorbike the day of assessment, well educated. A small number are stirry in the back yard and close quarters. The steers are eager to enter the force, race and fidgety in the crush requiring experienced and sensible handling. They are free flowing and require steadying through gates. In a large yard for photos they are at ease when given space.

Handled With Bikes , Horses
