| Vendor Comments        | Bred on farm to disciplined genetic targets of fertility, productivity and management ease over 15 years. The herd is one I would be buying if I were 20 years younger, rather than a retiree selling.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |      |                                           |     |                |     |
