| Assessor Comments            | With a history of high fertility, large frame Merino ewes suitable for wool and fat lamb production, these ewes would normally be retained as future breeders but due to change of farming enterprise a complete dispersal of this top quality Merino flock provides an opportunity to purchase excellent quality Bundemar Blood Merino Ewes. |            |                  |
