Assessor Comments	Genuine herd dispersal as property has been sold. Although it's dry currently when rejoined last October to February the season was fresh and healthy. As such vendors expect this paddock of cows to be as fertile as previous years. Although this season the herd wasn't preg tested, in past years they have with all empties sold, so your buying proven fertile cows with plenty of life left in them. They are generally well grown medium & large framed as can be seen by the weights, with the exception of a coupe small framed young cows that had calves as yearlings. These breeders are due to finish calving by the 19th of November approximately. This draft of cows consists of both vendor bred cows & bought in replacements. This line suits fattening & splitting as the cows are still healthy & will fatten to very good weights while rearing great crossbred calves.
