Temperament

Yards	Crush	Paddock
Quiet: 14 head Slightly Stirry: 2 head	Quiet: 12 head Slightly Stirry: 4 head	Temperament not assessed in Paddock

These animals handled very well through out the yards whilst drafting & photographing. Their temperament slightly altered once pressure was applied during weighing etc etc, although I believe this may be a foreign situation to them causing slight angst. All in all I feel there is no negative concern regarding their temperament.

Assessor Comments Greenwood Agriculture are offering a neat line of genuine second calving Angus cows that are PTIC to a heavy muscled & extremely docile Speckle Park bull. GA purchased these heifers off Auctions Plus as NSM females & made the decision not to join them straight away hoping to increase their frame size & condition score through natural maturity. According to their records these females calved down unassisted with their first calf at three years of age and have all successfully joined up for their second calf. There's no use sitting on the fence pondering & waiting about purchasing stock, the Spring season is in full swing and you would rather be looking at them, than looking for them! Please note vendor has another two similar lots in this Eastern States sale.
