Assessor Comments	These are a very well-presented line of red Brahman heifers, combining excellent temperament with strong, proven genetics. They have been well handled from an early age, are quiet, responsive, and show a high level of education through yards and in open conditions. Structurally sound with good breed character, they display the softness, capacity, and femininity sought after in quality Brahman females. Backed by reliable bloodlines, these heifers offer a great opportunity to add performance, adaptability, and long-term productivity to any herd. This is an opportunity for anyone looking to add long term reliability into their herd for longevity and piece of mind.
