Assessor Comments	This group of exceptionally quiet 2nd and 4th calving cows and calves have been carefully bred from stud cows known for their superior genetics and excellent temperament. These cows make a perfect addition to any herd, or an ideal starting point for a line of well-bred females with a lifetime of high-quality breeding potential ahead. They are also accompanied by healthy, sappy calves sired by a son of Al Heartbreaker speckle park bull, showcasing the great potential for them to become valuable contributors to a core breeding herd. The vendor has selectively bred these females with a focus on growth, frame, milk production, and temperament.
