| Handled With                                | These Steers flow very well in the yards and respect blocks. They do look for openings having been through the same yards in previous weeks, prior to assessment. Steers are handled by one or two people with the assistance of dogs while in the paddock. No aggressive signs.Bikes , Dogs , Horses , On foot |            |                                                              |

| Assessor Comments                           | An outstanding line of Angus / Angus SG cross Steers suitable for a number of markets. These steers have previously entered the domestic or export markets with great success. Steers are just on the move and starting to clean up in the coat. A fantastic line of steers not to be missed.                       |            |                                                              |
