|                    | Majority of steers slightly stirred when in crush, however settled quickly once released back into bigger yard with mob. Steers flowed well through race and yards, and have been educated well. Steers were generally a pleasure to handle |                                          |                                     |

| Assessor Comments      | A good quality line of Angus x Angus Steers. Steers display good length, depth and bone for age. Steers are in good forward condition and would suit any potential buyers looking for cattle to grow onto trade and/or heavier feeder weights or export slaughter weights.                                                                                                                     |
