Assessor Comments	Excellent quality line of East Loddon Blood Merino lambs, averaging 36.5kg following a 4-hour curfew, with all lambs being individually weighed 32kg+ (32-49kgs). Bred from medium to large-framed Merino ewes, these lambs display plenty of length, frame and growth potential, backed by quality genetics. Under the right conditions, they have the capacity to grow into heavy trade or export-weight lambs. These lambs are only being offered for sale to create additional room for the crossbred operation. They would normally be shorn, placed onto crop and grown out to suitable slaughter weights. A quality line of Merino lambs offering excellent potential. Please note approximately 40% of the group are carrying dry dag. Please call for further information.
