Quiet: 16 head Slightly Stirry: 4 head	Quiet: 18 head Slightly Stirry: 2 head	Temperament not assessed in Paddock

Cows were a bit reluctant to walk in to the force since their last visit was just 4 days prior for preg testing, but once they were beat, they were very easy to bring up through the race & crush, and all bar 2, stood perfectly on the scales, just a couple that were rocking around and trying to find an exit. Once away from the yards, out in the holding paddock, they were very well behaved. Quiet and easy to approach on foot for photos & videos.

Assessor Comments	The Murra Angus family have been producing Angus cattle for 52 years this year, with the Murra brand Established in 1983. These young 'prime of their life' breeders boast a long rich history of selected Angus genetics in their pedigree and would be an asset to any breeding herd. Right on the point of calving, these females will not keep you waiting long before you start seeing a return on your investment. A very good line of cows with a reputation for producing top weight hitting weaners!
