Temperament	Yards	Crush	Paddock
	Quiet: 24 head	Quiet: 22 head Slightly Stirry: 2 head	Temperament not assessed in Paddock
	Easy to handle, well mannered, bucket reared calves. Easy to push around the yards, and draft. Let out through the crush and walked back to their brothers. Some very typical 'nervous' crossbred behaviour in the crush. Ie. scared of the aluminium platform, and the noise when standing on it, A couple of steers listed above as slightly stirry - just anxious on the noisy platform, jumping about and wanting to exit the crush in a hurry.
Handled With	Dogs , On foot , Vehicles

Notable Traits	Traits
	1 Head Small eye blemish
	2 Head Small patch of ringworm
	1 Head Some swollen scar tissue on cod.
Assessor Comments	Quiet, well mannered young steers. Being reared on farm, no corners have been cut and no expenses spared in giving these young baby bullocks the best start possible in life. Reared on the bucket for almost 12 weeks, then weaned on to developer pellets & hay, being growing out on heavily improved pastures. These young steers have never seen a set back and have been drafted off as the tops of the drop with a small tail removed. An ideal line to either take forward on feed, or run through on some Spring pastures. Buyers please Note - Vendor has another 3 lots in the same sale.
