Steers were true to nature being easy to draft & flowed well through the yards. Cattle have experienced plenty of handling while being reared.

Assessor Comments	A great little line of fresh and healthy weaned steers ready to eat grass with all the hard work already been done for you. Quiet steers that would be perfect for a small operation looking to control some grass. These steers are usually held onto and grown out to export markets with some great results and only selling due to surplus of needs. Great opportunity to secure some quality steers with plenty of life ahead of them.
