Assessor Comments	This line of cows are only on the market due to the vendor moving out of the area. Cows have been running back with Pathfinder blood bull for the last 10 weeks and will remain in until delivery. These girls run solely on pasture with a variety of lick available to them but no hay, with the feed coming to them now would expect them to improve quickly. These are the last of the breeding herd to go and will give the opportunity to fatten and split or go around again if needed. Some cows showing a bit of rubbing which is common for this time of year. 1 cow is a little lame due to crossed over toes however doing a good job on her calf and would think she will come good when it dries out a bit.
