Assessor Comments	Vendor presents 400 quality Haddon Rig blood merino ewes with years of breeding and classing on their side. These ewes are ideal future breeders with plenty of frame and style, that will cut wool whilst being very fertile. These ewes are in ideal condition to join with ram of choice with fat score 1 sheep being on the higher end of the score and going ahead from shearing. The flock is classed annually by Andy McLeod. Wool cut was 6.8kg at 19.4 micron and 68.2% Yield and 99% comfort factor. Buyers will not be disappointed and would be an ideal starter flock or fit nicely to an established enterprise. One ewe was noticed at assessment to have a slightly undershot jaw. There are eleven lambs at foot from a Merino Ram that was found and removed in March. These lambs will be included in sale. No other ewes look to be in lamb. Approx. 10-15% of ewes were noted to have horn at assessment.
