Some of these cattle became agitated in a confined space, they were in no way aggressive but since have been in my clients hands have become a lot quieter. The odd heifer was just nervous and also wanted there calves back that we drafted off. once away from yards and back in the paddock they are fine.

Handled With	Bikes , On foot , Vehicles
Assessor Comments	All calved unassisted and have done very well on grass, these heifers will continue to grow and put on weight shown the feed. They are milking well and with the great seasonal outlook will rear a good quality calf to sell into lucrative markets. Calves are good quality. Cows ready to join to the bull of your choice. note 1 heifer has old leg injury not affecting her movement in any way or detrimental to her health. These heifers respect fences and weren't runny in yards but would appreciate kind handling not high amounts of pressure.
