	Typical to station bred cows being run in smaller set ups, these cows tend to want to rush through yards in mobs rather than wanting to be worked singularly. Cows were ok to handle through race and crush all flowing through without trouble to weigh or assess. Generally if handled as a mob and not singled out cows move through quickly but none became aggressive. However, cattle were handled to suit this mob.
Handled With	Bikes , Vehicles
Assessor Comments	A nice line of cows with plenty of room to move in weight gain. These cows have been chasing green pick in colder conditions than they are used to but are now in the go forward with warmer weather and longer feed now growing. These cows have good quality, fresh sappy calves at foot that are showing potential of growing in to excellent calves. The hand full of cows without calves at foot yet are showing signs of spring up and calving in the very near future.
