| Vendor Comments              | Highly Productive sheep, selling due to a reduction in the total flock after a few years of high lambing percentages. This mob marked 136% merino lambs last year.                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |            |               |

| Assessor Comments            | Flock Reduction Sale. The vendor is selling extra ewes this year after some amazing results in lambing percentages. This sale and the older sisters in the same sale, represents a rare opportunity to buy some high quality, highly productive and highly fertile Hannaton Genetics. Classed in vendor bred ewes.                                                                           |            |               |
