Skin Comment	Well shorn ewes that we're visually free of weed seeds at time of assessment. Ewes are grazing on native pasture that is starting to run to head, however wouldn't expect to see any significant grass seed or medic burr on skins in near future.
Wool Comment	A good start in the skin, well nourished, clean skins showing some bleach marks from the Extinosad backliner that was applied after shearing. The Gap Poll Merino flock has a micron average of 20 microns

Assessor Comments	What an opportunity to purchase a great line of 2016 drop Poll Merino ewes from the Barton Hill bloodline flock. The ewes are genuine large frame, big barrel ewes that have been mouthed and bagged sound. There are 300 ewes on offer in this sale over three lots (100 ewes in each lot as a run out of the gate). Ideally suited for purchasers looking to breed quality replacement Poll Merino ewes, or join to a British breed sire to produce some of the largest frame 1st cross lambs. The Gap flock is a closed flock. The black tag in the off ear of the ewe is the age tag, coloured tags in the near ear are sire indicator tags.
